WHAT GIFTS ARE REPORTABLE?

- Any gift (as defined below) you received which you believe to be in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) in value, EXCEPT:
  - 1) Gifts from relatives or members of one's household. For the purposes of this subsection, "relative" means, spouse, parent, grandparent, child, sibling, uncle, aunt, first cousin, nephew, niece, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepson, stepdaughter, stepbrother, stepsister, half-brother, or half-sister. For the purposes of this subsection, "household" includes anyone whose primary residence is in the official or employee's home, including non-relatives who are not rent payers or employees of the head of the household.
  - 2) Personal gifts over $100 so long as the gift is NOT from a vendor, lobbyist or principal or employer of a lobbyist and the circumstances demonstrate that the gift was motivated by a personal or social relationship, not an attempt to influence the performance of your official duties.
  - 3) Gifts which you are prohibited from accepting under sec. 2-444(a), (b) and (c). These include any gift which is given or accepted because of an official public action to be taken, or which could be taken, a legal duty performed or to be performed, or a legal duty violated or to be violated, or which could be violated by you in your capacity as a public employee or official. It also includes a gift worth over one hundred dollars ($100) if you are a public employee and the gift is from a lobbyist, or any principal or employer of a lobbyist who lobbies your political sub-division (town, municipality, village, county), or, if you are a public official (board, council, commission, etc.) from a lobbyist, or any principal or employer of a lobbyist who lobbies your advisory board, or any government department that is subject in any way to your advisory board's authority.
  - 4) Political contributions specifically authorized by state law.
  - 5) Awards for professional or civic achievement.
  - 6) Materials such as books, reports, periodicals or pamphlets which are solely informational or of an advertising nature.
  - 7) Gifts solicited by you as a government employee on behalf of your governmental subdivision in performance of your official duties for use solely by the governmental subdivision in conducting official business.
  - 8) Gifts solicited by you as an elected official on behalf of your governmental subdivision in performance of your official duties for use solely by the governmental subdivision in conducting its official business.
- A "gift" is defined to mean the transfer of anything of economic value, whether in the form of money, service, loan, travel, entertainment, hospitality, item or promise, or in any other form, without adequate and lawful consideration. Food and beverages consumed at a single setting or a meal shall be considered a single gift, and the value of the food and beverage provided at that sitting or meal shall be considered the value of the gift.

- The following are NOT reportable as gifts on this form: salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts or expenses associated primarily with your employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization.

HOW DO I DETERMINE THE VALUE OF A GIFT?

- The value of a gift provided to you is determined using the actual cost to the donor, and, with respect to personal services provided by the donor, the reasonable and customary charge regularly charged for such service in the community in which the service is provided. Taxes and gratuities are not included in valuing a gift. If additional expenses are required as a condition precedent to the donor's eligibility to purchase or provide a gift and the expenses are primarily for the benefit of the donor or are of a charitable nature, the expenses are not included in determining the value of the gift.
- Compensation provided by you to the donor within 90 days of receiving the gift shall be deducted from the value of the gift in determining the value of the gift.
- If the actual gift value attributable to individual participants at an event cannot be determined, the total costs should be prorated among all invited persons. A gift given to several persons may be attributed among all of them on a pro rata basis. Food, beverages, entertainment, etc., provided at a function for more than ten people should be valued by dividing the total costs by the number of persons invited, unless the items are purchased on a per-person basis, in which case the per-person cost should be used.
- Transportation should be valued on a round-trip basis unless only one-way transportation is provided. Round-trip transportation expenses should be considered a single gift. Transportation provided in a private conveyance should be given the same value as transportation provided in a comparable commercial conveyance.
- Lodging provided on consecutive days should be considered a single gift. Lodging in a private residence should be valued at $44 per night.
- Food and beverages consumed at a single sitting or event are a single gift valued for that sitting or meal. Other food and beverages provided on a calendar day are considered a single gift, with the total value of all food and beverages provided on that date being the value of the gift.
- Membership dues paid to the same organization during any 12-month period are considered a single gift.
- Entrance fees, admission fees, or tickets are valued on the face value of the ticket or fee, or on a daily or per event basis, whichever is greater. Except as otherwise provided, a gift should be valued on a per occurrence basis.
